Understanding your Financial and Participation Responsibility

We want to ensure that participants are aware of and accept their responsibilities for this course. Financial Responsibility: The CDA Credential and the Scholarships associated with this course are a personal award belonging to the participant; this means that the responsibility to pay is on the student.

Please read the following statements carefully then sign and date this form.

I understand that the cost of the CDA course I am enrolling in is $2,500.00 and that a $50 Registration fee will be due prior to class start date if my payment method has not been secured. I also understand that any Awards or Scholarships I receive will be applied towards the cost and that I will be responsible for paying any balance.

I understand that if I receive an EIP Award and/or funding through CSEA/VOICE and do not complete the course, I am responsible for all re-payments or balances due.

I understand that if I drop or withdraw from the CDA course prior to the start of the course, that I will receive a 100% refund of my $50 registration fee.

I understand that if I drop or withdraw from the CDA course after the third session I will receive no refund on my registration fee or for fees paid towards this course. If I feel there are extenuating circumstances that caused me to withdraw from the course, I understand that I may appeal for consideration of a refund by contacting the Executive Director of Child Care Solutions.

I understand that I will receive, and sign off on, a Payment Plan agreement to pay back any balance due not covered by a funding source. In addition, I understand that if payments are not made per my Payment Plan agreement, I may not be allowed to continue in the course, and that I will also not receive credit hours for completion of any CDA classes taken.

I understand that I will not receive a letter of completion until full payment has been made.
