Understanding the Financial Responsibility of your CDA Course

We want to ensure that all participants in our CDA Courses are aware and accept their financial responsibilities for this course. The CDA credential and Scholarships associated with this course are a personal award that belongs to the participant and not the program. This means that the responsibility to pay any remaining balance is yours.

Please read the following statements carefully then sign and date the form.

I understand that the cost of this CDA course I am enrolling in is $1,500.00. I understand that the $50 Registration fee will be applied toward the total cost of the course. I also understand that any awards or scholarships I receive will be applied to this fee and that I will be responsible to pay any balance that remains.

I understand that if I receive an EIP Award and/or funding through CSEA/VOICE and do not complete the course, I am responsible for all re-payments or balances due.

I understand that if I drop or withdraw from the CDA course any time prior to the start of the course, that I will receive a 100% refund of my $50 registration fee or any fees paid towards this course.

I understand that if I drop or withdraw from the CDA course after the third session I will receive no refund on my Registration fee or for fees paid towards this course. If I feel there are extenuating circumstances that caused me to withdraw from the course I understand that I may appeal for consideration of a refund by contacting the Executive Director of Child Care Solutions.

I understand that I will receive, and sign off on, a Payment Plan agreement to pay back any balance due not covered by any funding source. In addition, I understand that if payments are not made as set up in my payment plan agreement, I may not be allowed to continue in the course, and that I will also not receive credit hours for completion of any CDA classes taken.

I understand that my name will not be submitted to The Council For Professional Recognition for completion until full payment has been made.
